*Course Descriptions Below

Block 1

9:35-10:50

Praise Band

Teacher: Gabe Hollister

This elective is for 6th-12th grade students who are interested in being a part of the weekly chapel praise band. Various positions include singing, operating tech, teaching motions, and playing instruments. Students must be able to play instruments prior to joining.

Poetry/Creative Writing

Teacher: Dr. K.

This class introduces the reading and writing of creative literature. Students will be introduced to the various types of writing and take part in the creative process.

Entrepreneurship

Teacher: Ben Jerome

This course will cover key principles of starting and managing a business, along with leadership development from a Christ-centered perspective. It will incorporate guest speakers—entrepreneurs who can share their experiences—and have the students work on practical projects related to entrepreneurship and even marketing the school!

Culinary

Student Cost: $50

Teacher Laurie Sommer

Students will learn practical life skills related to food preparation, nutrition, and hospitality. The course emphasizes a hands-on approach, where they will showcase their acquired skills.

Note: All Chemistry Students are in lab

Block 2

10:55-12:10

Auto Mechanics

Teacher Gabe Hollister

Auto Mechanics is an introduction to basic automotive knowledge and skills. Students will learn to diagnose and repair regular issues related to engines and automobile maintenance. This includes basic information, familiarity with tools and routine procedures.

Theatre

Teacher Jamie Stoltzfus

Course description: As this will be our first semester with a theatre class, we will briefly explore theatre from different angles with the end goal of better understanding how theatre can enable us to pursue truth, goodness, and beauty. We will explore topics such as play analysis, use of our voice/projection, body movement, and improv.

Videography

Teacher Graham Ward

This course is an introduction to basic videography. It will focus on production and using specific equipment to produce various types of video as a specific medium.

Logical Fallacies

Teacher Samantha Campbell

This class is an introduction to basic logic and logical fallacies. All 6th graders are required to take this class.

Note: All Biology Students are in lab

Block 3

12:50-2:05

Robotics

Teacher David Rupp

This class is an introduction to basic robotics through the program called Lego League. Students will learn robotics coding and some basic electrical engineering related to robotics. Lego League provides materials to build a competitive robot that can perform certain basic tasks.

Speech/Debate

Teacher Staci Pirri

The Speech and Debate elective will help students develop skills in public speaking, argumentation, and critical thinking skills in alignment with their faith. Students will have an opportunity to join a competitive debate league.

Auto Mechanics
